DETAILED ACTION

Specification

In the preliminary amendment filed on July 15, 2003, the specification has been amended to read as follows: "This application is a Continuation of application Serial No. 09/007,755, filed on January 15, 1998, the contents of which are herein incorporated by reference." This needs to be updated to read as follows: "This is a continuation of application Serial No. 09/007,755, filed on January 15, 1998, now U.S. Patent No. 6,618,093, the contents of which are herein incorporated by reference."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claim 1 recites the limitation that "said photosensor includes a defect", which is not supported by the specification. For purposes of examination, the Examiner believes that this limitation should read "said optical system includes a defect", and will be examined as such.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 1 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,618,093. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 1 is more narrow in scope than claim of U.S. Patent No. 6,618,093, therefore, any patent granted on it would result in the unjustifiable timewise extension of the monopoly eventually granted on claim 1 of application 10/618,622. Additionally, it is important that these two inventions are always commonly owned.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hokari (US Patent # 6,285,400).

2. In regard to claim 1, note Hokari discloses an imaging device, comprising an optical system having a posterior focal area (column 6, lines 16-22), and an irregularly shaped photosensor configured to conform to and substantially occupy said posterior focal area (column 6, lines 9-15), wherein said optical system includes a defect (column 6, lines 16-22).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

US005004328: note the use of an irregular shaped sensor that is used to pick up an image.

US006627865B1: note the use of an irregular shaped sensor that is used to pick up an image.
